【 WHO WE ARE 】

Blue Scorpion is a US-based biotech company pioneering the use of blue scorpion venom in homeopathic medicine.

We manufacture and distribute a first-of-its-kind oral formula designed to support the body's natural response to pain and inflammation. Our solution delivers an innovative, system-wide approach to relief and recovery designed to work in harmony with the body.

Prior to Blue Scorpion, there were no homeopathic product using blue scorpion venom had been registered as medicine with a National Drug Code (NDC) or made available direct-to-consumer (DTC) or wholesale for clinics and practitioners.

What makes us different?

We are the only company in the world that manufactures and distributes a polarized blue scorpion venom-based homeopathic medicine that is:

- ✓ Listed with the FDA
- ✓ Has an FDA National Drug Code (NDC 83627-901-01 and 83627-901-02)
- ✓ HSA/FSA Eligible
- ✓ Manufactured in a cGMP facility

What is blue scorpion venom?

Blue scorpion venom is a rare biological substance naturally composed of peptides, amino acids, trace minerals, and proteins.

Certain peptides found in the venom have shown interactions with sodium, potassium, calcium, and chloride channels. Pathways that play a role in nerve signaling, muscle contraction, and immune response.

Derived from naturally occurred peptides

In its homeopathic diluted form, this complex biologic is formulated to work with the body's natural systems. It gently elicits a healing response to support temporary relief from pain and inflammation.

Chloride Ion Channel

17

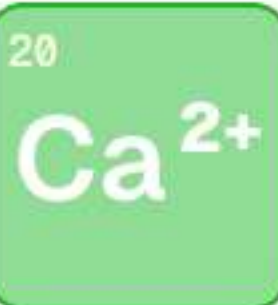

Calms and soothes the nervous system, promoting relaxation and reducing excessive excitability.

Potassium Ion Channel

19

Enhances the body's natural vitality and energy, promoting overall well-being and resilience.

Calcium Ion Channel

20

Calms and soothe muscular and nervous systems, promoting relaxation and reducing tension.

Sodium Ion Channel

11

Modulates body's response to pain and inflammation, promoting balance and harmony.

Patented Polarization Process

A proprietary polarization process enhances the energetic structure of the venom at the molecular level, optimizing its interaction with the body and promoting improved bioavailability without overloading the gut or masking symptoms.

Patented Polarization Technology: Amplifying the Power of Blue Scorpion Venom

The patented polarization process utilizes resonance to generate a specific frequency that synchronizes with the molecular structure of blue scorpion venom. This synchronization triggers an intense resonance effect, causing the venom molecules to absorb energy and vibrate at an increased rate.

As a result, the orbital movement of atoms within the molecules is shortened, leading to a significant increase in molecular activity and potency. By amplifying the polarization of the venom molecules, our technology enables them to absorb quantum energy, ultimately enhancing their bioavailability and efficacy.
